1 Introduction

This is a simple LaTeX document. You can write text here and format it using LaTeX commands.

2 Mathematics

Here is an example of a mathematical equation:

$$E = mc^2 \tag{1}$$

3 Multi-Column Layout

This is an example of a two-column layout. You can write text here, and it will flow into the next column when it reaches the end of the current column.

This text will continue in the next column if needed.

You can continue writing as much as you want. LaTeX will automatically handle the column balancing.

4 Conclusion

This is the conclusion of your document. You can add more sections and content as needed.
